"A lot of folks want to experience Cuba and travel to Cuba, but now the American people have an easier way to get to Cuba," said Alan Bersin, a Treasury Department official overseeing the reopening of the U.S. programs that permit travel to Cuba. The U.S. Travel Office and the U.S. Commerce Department's Bureau of Industry and Security announced in January that they would reopen applications for the Cuba Transitions Entrepreneurs Program and the Cuba Educational Travel Program, which both permit people to travel to Cuba for educational purposes, the same day the Obama administration lifted longstanding travel and commerce restrictions. At the time, the U.S. government said that applications would remain closed through May 31. However, officials from Treasury and the Commerce Department did not commit to making the applications available until Monday morning. Derek Laurent, a spokesman for the U.S. Office of Foreign Assets Control (OFAC), which is responsible for the reopening of the programs, said that "U.S. citizens and residents are encouraged to apply" for the programs. The deadline to apply for the travel programs is Feb. 22.

Q: Why is the callback for crossfilter dimension() invoked before dimension().group().reduce().count()? I'm using crossfilter 2.5.1 in my project. My problem is, when I use the dimension() function. It is invoked before the dimension().group().reduce().count(). I know it is very simple. But I can't know the reason behind this behavior. // get data from DB var filterDimension = this.metric.dimension(user.filterDimension); filterDimension.group().reduceCount(function (reduced) { return reduced.length; }); // get data from DB var metric = this.metric.dimension(metric.values); metric.group().reduceCount(

Q: Using NexusServer to make API requests I have a requirement to send user based API requests with encoded parameters and a timestamp. I was considering using the NexusServer library, but the docs only mention the command line (regardless of the version installed). When would one need to use this interface over the standard Web Client? A: I've been using the nodejs client to call the services using its stdlib endpoint. Q: Xamarin Forms on select list item, bind to list of items I have a dropdown list in Xamarin Forms, where each item is a list of items. I'm trying to figure out how to bind to each of the items of the dropdown list, because when the user selects a list item, I want to show the selected item's properties in a message box. I have the XAML set up in a way that it pulls the properties from the item at the index specified in the list. For example, a song that is in the dropdown list, has properties such as SongTitle, SongArtist, and SongAlbum. When the user selects the 1st item from the list of items, I want to display SongTitle. When the user selects the 2nd item from the list of items, I want to display SongArtist and SongAlbum. How do I bind to each item in the drop down list? I tried the following XAML, but it didn't work as expected.
