You're traveling to a dangerous island in a treacherous sea, for the sake of an ancient map. This map might hold the key to finding your friends, but is also a hiding place for the island's most dangerous beasts. But first, you need to find a way down to the sea, so you can board your friend's inflatable boat. You sink. You drown. It's the island's darkest hour: You're on the verge of death. Game Overview Travel to isolated, mysterious, lush and deadly Nox Terrorem: Lost Souls. Explore a deserted island and search for your fellow player character, who you left stranded there in a desperate attempt to send a message to your loved ones. Discover the island's ocean beds, craggy cliffs and lush forests filled with dark secrets. And if you're lucky enough, you might find a way to escape the island and save yourself... Join Your Quest You're exploring a desolate island in search of an ancient map. And somehow, you've got to find a way off the island first! You'll need to delve into the natural landscape and collect materials, craft tools, weapons and potions to help you overcome the island's treacherous dangers. Or if you think you're strong enough, you might try to make it across the towering cliffs that line the island and find a way down. Unravel the Island's Secrets Discover the island's secrets at the moment you don't even know yet you will. If you make it to the bottom of the cliffs and search through the sea, you might find a way to board your friend's inflatable boat. Travel through the Cliffs While exploring the island, jump and climb your way across the cliffs using your jetpack. Pitch upside down to reach further spots or find secret entrances that might open up new routes to explore. Search the Forests Explore the island's dense forests searching for resources and crafting materials. Craft Tools and Weapons Use the island's flora and fauna as an essential part of your survival. Harvest crops for harvests, turn trees into planks, make rope from vines and weave them into clothing and shelter. Prepare Yourself As you continue your search for the map and the way off the island, you'll

You get several boring games in a row. You get another death edge of steel game, it's a 2 hour game at most. They can't keep selling stuff like this for only 2 hours. They come up with new stuff faster than you can. They've been trying to keep up with what's out on the market and it's been futile. It's a race to the bottom and never stops. This game is one of the last still trying to sell polished and finished.

Sci-fi themed maps

Maps can be scie-fi themed, horror themed, nature themed, brutal fantasy or plain evil. They're drawn in a style resembling typical nerdism. The range includes the towns, castles, caves, dungeons and laboratories.

The Derelict v2 Pre-Gen for Fantasy Grounds The Derelict v2 Pre-Gen for Fantasy Grounds 2 This is my second time seeing this show. The first time i went i had a hard time imagining the show without Dave but i see that he is back and better than ever. I would recommend this show not for the average viewer but for those who love SHARE some humor with their friends. I will be tuning in again for the next Saturday. The show begins at 5:00pm. As an added bonus to my main review of this show, here's my anticipation review for the guest appearance of Anna Maurer; singer/songwriter extraordinaire. The anticipation for this review went into the stratosphere, when I first read that Dan Harmon (creator of 'Community') was on the show with her. I have been anxiously awaiting this appearance of her on the show so that it finally happened. Well it happened and there's no doubt as to why there was no way to mistake her for anyone else. Completely uninhibited, from the moment the episode first started, there was no mistaking Anna Maurer. She's pure, unmitigated joy and laughter. She was simply the best entertainer i've seen live in any capacity this year; probably ever. I could hear a pin drop for the entire duration of the show, as her every joke, character, and song were received by a full, enthusiastically cheering audience. She is so utterly delightful and charming that she makes me wish she'd do a tour that takes her to live in my city. Unfamiliar with her music? The video below will give you an idea of what she can do; perfect for all ages. Hello everyone! I hope everyone's weekend was fantastic! My weekend consisted of a film and a show. I had not seen a film in several years (the last film I saw was Crash, in 2004). I have a growing obsession with going to the cinema since I finally moved away from the suburbs. I was Sure, I go to bed at night with the worries and stresses of the world on my mind, and I wake up with good days and bad days, but I can look back on a life that is filled with more risk, adventure, and love than most people have ever experienced. I have a job that shows me regular access to the moon, to the Atlantic Ocean, to rooms full of the most beautiful, entertaining, witty, and sexy people, and I get to live every day as if it was my last. And yet, in all of that life, from all of that exposure, I'm still always surprised by what I miss, even during the best years of my life. The best years of my life have only happened once, and what I get to experience right now is so much more meaningful than all of that. I'm so incredibly thankful for all of the good things in my life, and I want to keep those good things around as long as I can. If you're reading gods, humans and war in a mystical landscape. You're awakened to a world of war and bloodshed by the shaking of a stone idol brought back to life. The mysterious stone idol is able to simulate and manipulate reality. The Gods got sick of the humans because they ruined their peaceful days. Simulating what they have planned as a way to survive, the Gods made themselves into avatars. When 'Ruling Simulacra' ends, you'll get to decide what the fate of the world will be. Your choice of actions will affect the world. You will choose what the humans will decide to become, creating stories and societies of hope or despair, that will either come true or crumble. Some parts of the game will be free-form, some will be time-gated. In time-gated events, every action you make will affect an event that occurs in a few days to a few months. There will be both allied and enemy factions in Ruling Simulacra. You'll have to choose what you want to do, whether you want the war or to help humans and gods. You will have to decide and shape your own destiny. The people you helped will remember you and the gods will pay for the sins of the humans.

GAME FEATURES:

- Several Game Modes. The main campaign will have 4 different endgame scenarios that will be connected through branching pathways.
- Playable Gods. Each God has their own playstyle and personality. Each of them have their own band of followers.
- Playable Humans. A cast of around 20 human characters. Each human has their own story and character that will shape the games.
- Landscapes and Characters that bring the story to life. The game will have a wide variety of locations that will look, feel and look like they would in that world. The characters will be fully voiced.
- Read and Die. You will encounter crazy, funny, grim, and heartbreaking situations. Use your wits, knowledge, and relationships to survive.
- Deep lore, extensive backstory, and context. The story is told through the eyes of the Gods, humans, and a representative of the Angelic race.
- Branching story paths. The game has a branching story with many different paths and decisions you can take. You can choose to
