Answering some questions about the essay will help you decide which of the following is best. IELTS administrators are looking for essays that are presented with good structure, examples and in-depth analysis. They are looking for essays which deal with situations, opinions and arguments. They are looking for essays which are not just re-writing of information already given. I found a website that teaches IELTS through a distance learning method that is over the internet. They are really good at teaching how to write essay questions. There are three questions that I really need help on: I'm not sure of the tone of any of them, plus the three topics look so general. Could you advise me on this? Hi I have already wrote my report on this question, anyhow I would like to share my ideas with you. I went on you weblink www.britishcouncil.org/css. Since IT is frequently compared to the computer, as it is the primary means of communication on the Internet, it is likely to be confused with a computer program. You can also find out more about this topic at www.ow.ox.ac.uk/labour/news/liz_ielts_liz_essay_ideas.html . The first paragraph should talk about the advantages of a computer program. After that you can discuss the disadvantages. I hope I have been able to be of some help to you. Best regards Nadia Hello, I have had a thought about the last question on the task I am having problems on it is I can only find one refernce on how to start but I cant work out where I have to start I mean what part of the essay, if there is more than one paragraph, I can not work it out. Thanks for your answer Tim

I have noticed that you have added the common mistakes to your essay topics. This is great. However, I notice that you are assigning a first cause to the first topic which is actually a wrong cause. It is not the problems of the people that is causing the G8 summit. What has caused it is the greed of the rich countries which is the source of the problems. So, you need to change the first cause for one that is more justified. The problem of the poor countries is caused by their greed. The rich countries have plenty of money but they are foolish enough to spend it on developing missiles. They must be stopped to ensure there is more for poor countries. Hence, the cause for the first topic is greed of the rich countries. That is a good analysis. I am glad you have seen the error of my ways. The good of rich countries, we need this money for their advancement. However, the poor should not go to war so they can have a lot of money from the rich. I agree greed has caused the problems of the world and if greed is not stopped, there will be other effects like trouble for the poor. You need to repeat this good analysis in your essay as this is also the cause of your concept. Well done. You have done a good job on this one. It is to the point and properly presents the issues. You have made your case in your answer. G8 Summit, which is an historical event. I am glad to see you using some paragraphs to explain to the readers. I am happy you have made your ielts essay so short. Good job. Congratulations. The good thing is to make an essay is not difficult. The difficult part is to present the ideas and information perfectly. 5ec8ef588b
