Q: How to import a dataset in R? I'm trying to install urbanSimlution R package but I have some problem with it. I would like to import a dataset that is in zip file. I found urbanSimlution's repo but there is a README file that is not clear enough. There are two files which I could not find the import function. cv_reader.rmd time_series.R I just need to import the csv format.

A: This github page contains all the RMD files used within UrbanSimlution package. Just download it and open the csv_reader.rmd file. This file contains the function readdata() which will give you the access to the dataset that is used in the code of UrbanSimlution R package. This function is as follows:

readdata <- function(file_path, parsed) { tryCatch(file_data <- read.csv(file_path), error = function(e) { if (!exists("data")) tryCatch(data <- read.csv(file_path), error = function(e) {
